Fujairah Philharmonic Orchestra School (FPOS) is seeking a highly qualified and experienced full-time teacher to join our faculty. The successful candidate will play a key role in the development of our newly established orchestra and will be responsible for providing individual lessons and conducting master classes for students.

This position offers a unique opportunity to mentor and train future orchestra musicians. The teacher will be responsible for instructing new students in all aspects of orchestral performance and will also play a significant role in the future development of our string, woodwind, brass, and percussion ensembles.

Key Responsibilities:

- Deliver individual lessons and master classes focused on orchestral performance.
- Teach students in all aspects of orchestral playing, with an emphasis on both technical and artistic development.
- Participate in the growth and development of our string, woodwind, brass, and percussion ensembles.
- Foster a supportive and motivating environment encourages the development of good practice habits.

Qualifications and Skills:

- Proven experience in teaching orchestral instruments to students at various skill levels.
- Strong interpersonal skills, with the ability to establish a positive and authoritative presence in the classroom.

- Excellent organizational skills, flexibility, patience, and clear communication.
- While knowledge of Arabic is not required, the successful candidate will work with students who have varying levels of English proficiency and must be able to adapt their teaching methods accordingly.
- A passion for inspiring and motivating students to reach their full potential.

Application Process:

To apply, please submit the following:

- A cover letter detailing your relevant experience.
- An updated CV.
- Up to three video links (via YouTube or direct uploads) showcasing rehearsals, performances, or other relevant material.

The successful candidate will be invited for a six-month trial period in Al Fujairah, with the start date to be confirmed. If the trial period is successful for both parties, a renewable two-year contract will be offered. During the trial period, the successful applicant will also participate in repertoire planning.

Applications will remain open until the position is filled.
